Subject: MLPAComments: Comment on Package S origination

I would like to submit this to your comment page to accompany a comment that had a fact wrong regarding the origination of Package S and the now arguable status of Package 1.

Thank you,
Ernie Koepf

Chairman Phil Isenberg

Dear Chairman Isenberg,

It has been brought to my attention by an ACSF board member that though Package S is an internal product of the BRTF, the MLPA-I Team are the architects of Package S and not the SAT. Further, it was his informed and considered opinion that Package 1 may no longer best meet the science guidelines, as those guidelines have shifted as the process has moved along toward the recommendation stage.

Our organization wishes to set these statements right in print and officially through this communication.

Personally and from my perspective, it seems to raise more questions than it answers, among them: does the MLPA policy process drive the scientific evaluation process? I hope that I again have this wrong.

Respectfully,

Ernie Koepf
